ISSUE: SEPTEMBER 2023

Hi Everyone,

We are sadly saying goodbye to our summer, but we can now look forward to Autumn, when we can still enjoy early morning walks and at least our reception area is a little cooler! We ended the summer nicely with a few lovely days of sun (closely followed by rain), and we even managed to have a social day where the team got together and canoed and paddle boarded on the Coquet river.

As we continue to grow, we have been very lucky to see two new members joining our team. We now have Sarah, a local lass who has joined the vet team, as well as Lauren, a full-time receptionist who will help us to keep the clinic running smoothly. Welcome Lauren and Sarah!

We are also now looking for a Registered Veterinary Nurse (RVN) to join our ever-expanding team at Coquet Vets, so if you are interested to join us, or you know someone who would be good for this role, do check out the latest job vacancy post.

We are pleased to say that our Neutering month promotion has meant we have seen an increase in the number of pets we are neutering, especially the rescue cats through our cat's protection scheme.

We are also due to host our First Aid Evening on Thursday 19th October. We look forward to welcoming all those who have booked a place. All proceeds from The £10 donation to attend will go to SHAK (Safe Homes And Kindness).

We hope you enjoy reading our latest articles and news from the team, and we look forward to seeing you at your next visit.

TEAM UPDATE: WELCOME SARAH HAGGIE

We are really pleased to welcome Sarah Haggie (BVetMed & MRCVS) to our team as one of our Veterinary Surgeons.

Sarah is a keen hillwalker/mountaineer, fell runner and skier, and she also enjoys both scuba and free diving, and kayaking. She is often found in the Cheviots, Lakes, or Scottish mountains with her half sausage called Alfie. In her spare time, Sarah enjoys being a GP vet! Having graduated from the Royal Veterinary College London in 2008, Sarah returned home to Northumberland and has worked locally ever since.

She enjoys all aspects of being a general practitioner, but especially surgery and dentistry, and has a soft spot for Guinea pigs, rabbits, and sausage dogs. She has recently joined the Coquet Vets team and is looking forward to caring for the pets of the amble area.
